

Space Changes

Shaping hybrid collaboration

Hybrid working makes up our everyday work. Learned by necessity... But how good are you at hybrid collaboration today? Is your New Normal designed in such a way that the mixture of presence and remoteness enriches you, your team, your organisation - instead of creating tension and stumbling blocks?

Find out – within the team and for the team!

Space Changes supports you on this journey of discovery into your hybrid collaboration. In a crisp workshop format - enriched by gamification elements - away from everyday life.

Space Changes offers you

Experiencing presence, remote and hybrid in their diversity

Findings about the effectiveness in your hybrid everyday life

Impulses (from us) for hybrid collaboration

Development of measures for the hybrid future
- with the best of all worlds

Space Changes needs from you

- Time commitment of approx. 4 hours
- Team size of 5+
- Willingness to use gamification to (finally) name the topics of hybrid everyday life
- Motivation to develop one's own behavior and that of the team

Space Changes we for you

We accompany you intensively on this journey, which is tailored to your needs. This includes the workshop addressing your core topic: Lively meetings, tools for meetings, neuroscientific findings on collaboration, strengthening teams in their collaboration, dealing with stress in the team and as an individual ... or whatever else is on your mind in hybrid everyday life .

We contribute our treasure trove of experience in hybrid working environments as a keynote speech and throughout the workshop. The alignment of the gamification element, the game, is in good hands with us, methodically and personally.

We are happy to explain more about it (than fits on this page): hello@changefication.com
