

Steering strategically, accelerating operationally

Do you want to approach your strategy process differently? Enter the world of Formula 1 and experience the differences between strategic and operational work together as a team.

How successful will you be as a Formula 1 team? Find it out!

mindSTOP is useful for you

- ... as part of a kick-off for strategy projects
- ... as part of a leadership development program
- ... for employees/teams who are working on strategic issues
- ... for employees who are changing from an operational to a strategic area mindSTOP offers you to experience the differences between strategic and operational thinking reflect on the game and gather insights derive concrete measures for your strategy development strengthen teamwork

mindSTOP we for you is a workshop in which you are playfully introduced to the different ways of thinking (strategic vs. operational). As a team, you will develop an awareness of which one makes sense and reflect on what it means for you.

Contents

We will guide you through the 4-hour workshop with our expertise. You are in good hands with us, both methodically and personally.

- ✓ Input on strategic and operational work
- ✓ mindSTOP - the game
- ✓ Reflection and concrete agreements
- ✓ Conclusion

We would be happy to explain more (than fits on this page): hello@changefication.com